Covid-19 Stakeholder Update / 16.04.20

This is the Ministry of Justice's regular stakeholder communications update service. This is intended to signpost the latest Covid-19 guidance and central government updates.

We encourage organisations to share these updates with your wider networks to ensure a wide circulation of important communications. For monitoring and evaluation purposes, we'd gratefully receive information on who you are sharing this with.

We would also find it helpful to know about your own communications plans and any intel that will help inform our communications moving forwards. Please do get in touch at stakeholder.intel@justice.gov.uk.

Please find today's update below.

- We have robust and flexible plans to ensure we can continue to deliver key services across the justice system.
- A network of priority courts will remain open during the coronavirus pandemic to make sure the justice system continues to operate effectively.
- Selected lower-risk offenders, within weeks of their release dates, and pregnant women in custody who do not pose a high risk of harm to the public will be temporarily released from prison. Additionally, works have begun to deliver 500 temporary, single occupancy units at seven jails. This will increase space in prisons and limit the spread of Coronavirus helping protect staff, prisoners and the NHS.

Ministry of Justice

Appreciating critical workers across the Justice system. At 8pm tonight, to coincide with the national 'clap' for critical workers, the MOJ, HMPPS and HMCTS will be publishing content across their social media channels - showing gratitude for the hardworking critical workers from across the justice system who are keeping us safe during this time.

Please add your appreciation for these critical workers by sharing this content or creating your own content on social media and using the hashtag #JusticeHeroes and #HiddenHeroes.

HMCTS

NEW: Susan Acland-Hood, CEO of HMCTS, has contributed a guest blog for the Bar Council's fortnightly 'BarTalk' newsletter. The blog outlines how HMCTS has introduced new ways of working during the coronavirus outbreak, including increased use of AV technology and a consolidated network of buildings. It also thanks barristers for their recent efforts and support. Read the blog here: https://www.barcouncil.org.uk/resource/guest-blog-susan-acland-hood-ceo-hmcts-uniting-to-tackle-coronavirus-in-our-courts-and-tribunals.html?dm_t=0,0,0,0

During this unprecedented public health emergency, we are adjusting practices and taking steps to minimise the risk to the judiciary, court staff and users. Any changes to individual hearings will be communicated directly to those affected in the usual way, by email and/or phone. The following page will continue to be updated when new advice is available: <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/coronavirus-covid-19-courts-and-tribunals-planning-and-preparation>

HMCTS maintain a daily operational summary service on courts and tribunals from Monday to Friday during the Coronavirus outbreak. HMCTS aim to update this page daily by 9am: <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/hmcts-daily-operational-summary-on-courts-and-tribunals-during-coronavirus-covid-19-outbreak>

HMPPS

Prisons and probation services have implemented significant changes to comply with the Government's social distancing rules and to protect staff and service users. The service has been working closely with public health experts, as well as criminal justice partners, to ensure that robust contingency plans are in place and immediate action can be taken wherever cases are identified. The following page will continue to be updated when new advice is available: <https://www.gov.uk/guidance/coronavirus-covid-19-and-prisons>

As of 17:00 on Wednesday 15 April:

- 232 prisoners have tested positive for COVID-19 across 60 prisons;
- 96 prison staff have tested positive for COVID-19 across 38 prisons;
- 7 Prisoner Escort and Custody Services (PECS) staff have tested positive for COVID-19.

Further updates with the latest figures may be released later this evening to the media and will be included here the following day for information, so please do bear with us if they are superseded during the day.
